XSTUDY

The European corporation xStudy SE is headquartered in Munich and markets international education opportunities for the entire European Higher Education Area. The essential elements of the company are the information portal studieren.de already founded in 1997 and the international portal for curriculum orientation xStudy.EU, founded in May 2010.

With many years of experience as an expert partner to universities and companies, the leading portal for curriculum orientation provides current and comprehensive information for selecting courses of study as well as on possible career path after graduation, both in Germany and across Europe.

In the context of the restructuring and standardization of the European education sector, the company has established itself as the most important European information resource in the international market.

LIVIA holds a 40% stake in xStudy SE.
